High School Will Observe American Education Week

Point Loma high school will observe American Education Week with a special program. "Education for the Atomic Age" is the national theme for the observance of American Education Week throughout the United States, according to the National Education association, Washington, D. C. This celebration of free education and the progress of our public schools will be given consideration at Point Loma and in the other San Diego city schools from November 10 to 16.

Point Loma high school will hold open house for patrons and friends Tuesday evening, November 12 from 7 to 8:30. At that time teachers will be in their respective classroom so parents may become acquainted with their children's teachers or renew acquaintance, announces Milford Ellison, faculty chairman. "Special exhibits in art, R. O. T. C. and other departments where visual work may be placed for study by visitors will be featured," he says. Members of the girls' drill team will serve as guides.

"We most cordially urge every parent and friend of Point Loma

Religious Survey In Local Section To Start Monday

Ocean Beach is to have a religious survey starting the coming Monday. Plan is to make a house-to-house visitation, covering every home in this district. The district to be included is practically the same area as postal zone 7. The survey will run to November 23.

The survey is being sponsored by the Ocean Beach Kiwanis club as a service to the various churches of this community, all of whom are cooperating in the effort. Says the chairman of the Kiwanis "Support of Churches" committee: "In the interests of the various churches, clubs, educational and civic organizations of Ocean Beach the Kiwanis club is making a religious survey. The results should enable all these groups to become better acquainted with our community problems and so help them in carrying on their various works."

All the local churches are furnishing workers to make the house-to-house survey, reports the committee, and each minister is being asked to announce the survey at the Sunday service.

Only a few questions are to be asked in the survey including the names and age of each member of the family, and anyone else living in the home, also the address and phone number and a statement of which church each holds membership in, if any, and if not a member a notation of which church is preferred.

OLD BILLS STOLEN FROM OCEAN BEACH LIBRARY

The Ocean Beach police station reports that vandals broke into the Ocean Beach library over the week-end. Breaking a window to gain entry, the thieves took some valuable Confederate bills, and souvenir foreign bills and tax tokens. These robbers were evidently ardent coin and bill collectors or else they didn't heed the old warning about not taking any wooden nickels or Confederate currency.

The Beachcomber

Seen and Heard:

Talk during the past week centering mostly around the elections as a larger number of residents than ever turned out for mid-term elections. . . . Considerable unfavorable comment about the poor job local radio stations did in covering returns on San Diego County election races. . . . Second half, Barracks building for the new Sand-Oster clinic on the move Thursday. By the time you read this both halves of the structure should be in place at Santa Monica and Cable. . . . Glenn Jones carrying on at his service station despite the handicaps caused by extensive remodeling. . . . Bill Bailey and Glen Cords in the throes of opening new stores here. . . . Much activity on the part of our merchants last Friday as they cleaned off their store windows. Some of them wore smirks as they wiped off the kerosene they had put on the night before to forestall soaping.

Salute of the Week:

To the local kids for the well-behaved Halloween.

Second Halloween Parade Attracts Several Thousand

Second annual Halloween parade in Ocean Beach Thursday night last week drew thousands to the Newport Ave. business district, and was judged generally as a complete success.

Judging of the numerous prize winners in each division was by Mrs. J. R. Lownes, Mrs. Harry Masters and Mrs. Ormal Sprungman. The costumes were considerably more colorful than was the case last year. Competition was more keen than ever for the prizes, with the result that the judges worked harder than ever to reach their decisions.

Pupils from the second to the ninth grades inclusive were in the four school divisions of the parade, each with adult leaders in charge. Other groups in the parade included the Dana Junior high school band, the Point Loma high school band, song and cheer leaders including the "pom pon" girls; the Ocean Beach Boy Scouts and the Ocean Beach Cub Scouts.

Following the judging and the taking of pictures of the various groups of prize winners by J. V. Anderson, local photographer, the parade disbanded and the children and many of the adults repaired to the auditorium of the Ocean Beach Elementary school, where a community Halloween dance was enjoyed.

The big event was under the sponsorship of the Ocean Beach Kiwanis club, assisted by the three local schools and several local civic organizations with Arnold Morss as general chairman.

Mrs. Meta Bruce, director of the St. Stephen's school, reports that plans are being made for the organization of a Parent-Teachers association for the school.

Local Postoffice Now Sends Out 13 Carriers—Four New

Increased mail being handled by the Ocean Beach postoffice has necessitated a considerable increase in the personnel working out of this office. Beginning last week, the staff of mail carriers has been jumped to 13, and the postal zone 7 area has been divided into 13 routes. Before the change there were nine routes, with one carrier for each.

Under the new setup, 15 carriers are being employed out of the Ocean Beach office, 13 of them being regular carriers and two, John P. Taylor and Wesley S. Berry, being utility carriers used to relieve the regular carriers on compensatory days, reports Harold K. Rankin, superintendent of the mails for the local office.

The four new carriers are Wm. L. Johnson on route 710, Marion J. Johnson on route 711, Laurel E. Holmberg on route 712 and Roy J. Talcott on route 713. The other nine routes are manned by the following former regular members of the staff:

Ralph W. Newton on route 701, Vernal C. Hunsaker on route 702, George E. Bailey on route 703, Ralph L. Gilbert on route 704, Raymond J. Wright on route 705, John H. Blake on route 706, Wm. H. Croken on route 707, Eugene Ellwood on route 708 and Wm. A. Keller on route 709.

An entire revamping of the nine previous routes was made in order to change to 13 routes, says Rankin.

Mrs. Artella Campbell, who has been relieving at the local postoffice during vacation periods of the local personnel, resumed her duties at the San Diego main postoffice Monday this week.

Republicans Win Decisive Victory At Polls Tuesday

The Republican landslide that generally swept the country in Tuesday's election also included San Diego county and the state at large, in which all the Republicans won favor with the voters.

Senator Wm. F. Knowland was returned to the U. S. senate by a lead of close to 20,000 over Will Rogers Jr. in this county. Charles K. Fletcher's majority over Congressman Ed V. Izac is expected to reach at least 15,000.

Both Ocean Beach nominees won by large majorities. Assemblyman Fred H. Kraft, running for the state senate, won over City Councilman Chas. C. Dail by at least 10,000; and Capt. Frank Luckel defeated Vincent T. Godfrey by at least 6,000 for the state assembly.

James Don Keller of National City, whose wife is a Dana Junior high school teacher, swamped Thomas Whelan, long time incumbent of the district's attorney's office, by around 30,000 majority.

All five questions approving Colorado river water for this county carried by margins of around 10 to 1. The school bonds also were given a heavy "Yes" vote, the ratio being 5 to 2 in favor, providing good news for all three Ocean Beach schools.

More pay for the teachers is assured, since proposition 3 providing $2400 minimum salary won by better than 2 to 1 throughout the state. All but four of the 17 state propositions carried. Those defeated were No. 2, dog racing; No. 5, creation of a tax court of appeals; No. 11, the misnamed fair employment practices act; and No. 13, allocation of public school funds. The ratio on Nos. 2 and 5 was more than 3 to 1 against.

Of the four county charter amendments only No. 3, providing for election of a county board of education of five members carried.

C. of C. Hopes To Decide Christmas Decorations Soon

November meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, held Monday night at the Woman's club house, was largely concerned with the matter of Christmas street decorations for both the Newport Ave. and the Voltaire St. business sections. Chairman Arnold Morss of the committee in charge of the arrangements announced that the committee is now working on a plan for decorating at least Newport Ave. from Sunset Cliffs Blvd. to Abbott St. and Voltaire St. from Sunsett Cliffs to Bacon.

He announced that the committee is conferring with a Mr. Winsett, a local architect, for a poinsetta-candle design metal decoration to be placed on the street lamp posts. The plan would be to place these decorations on about 50 of these posts. Winsett, he said, asks a price of $37 per post including both the installation and the rental and is in position to have the decorations in place by December 1. Secretary Rolin W. Shaw, also a member of the committee, stated that the same decorations could be obtained next year at a considerably reduced price providing Winsett was given the contract.

As regards financing the enterprise, Morss stated that the committee is working on a plan somewhat similar to that being used in downtown San Diego, whereby the cost would be apportioned to the various merchants according to the front footage of their places of business, the cost to be between 50 cents and $1 per front foot.

Following the committee report the members entered into a general discussion of the proposal, and generally expressed themselves in favor. Several sugges-

Point Loma Tops League, Defeating La Jolla 7 to 0

Point Loma High now tops the Metro football league, having defeated La Jolla Saturday, 7 to 0, on the latter's field. Escondido now stands as the main threat to the Pointers winning this season's league title. Both the game this (Friday) afternoon with Coronado on the home field and the Nov. 22 game with Sweetwater here, the Pointers are doped to win. The game with the Cougars on the Escondido field Nov. 15, however, shapes up as a tough battle, with the odds about even.

At La Jolla last Friday, Manuel Silva crashed through the line in the second quarter for the first and only score of the game after the Pointers had marched up the field about 70 yards, largely on long gains by Manuel Andrade.

La Jolla threatened only once, that being early in the first quarter when the Vikings advanced to the Pointer 17 and lost the ball on an incomplete end zone pass. Practically the entire second half was played in La Jolla territory and the Pointers were on the Cougars' 12 threatening to score when the game ended.

POINT LOMA TEEN TOWN DOINGS

(By Nancy Fieger)

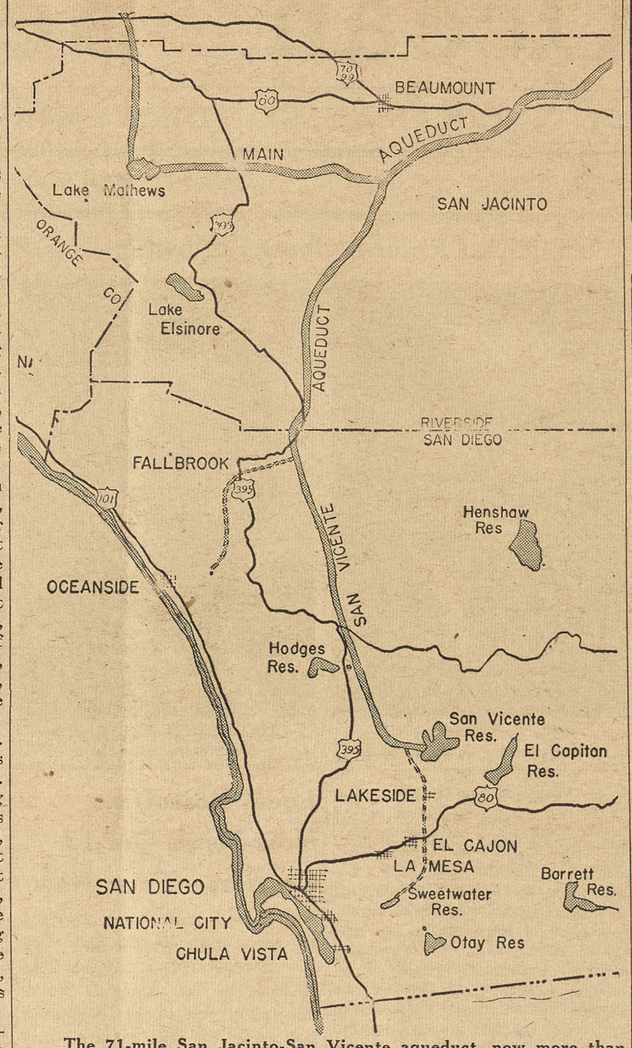
The four girls who are being initiated into the Prims are required to carry long heavy paddles with them this week. These paddles are the ones that the senior officers will use on the pledges at their final initiation. P. S.—The girls had to make the paddles themselves, with their names on them.

Success Tea Given

The tea given by the La Cheres Sunday, Nov. 3, was a great success. Yours truly was invited and my own personal opinion could not be expressed in the English language for the simple reason that there are too few words in my vocabulary, anyway, to express my feelings about the party. The tea was held at Suzie Kelley's home.

Though supposed to have lasted from 4 to 6, the tea continued way past 6. More than 200 girls were invited, including all the private girls' clubs at Point Loma. All members of the La Cheres wore formals, including the new members. Gardenias were presented to the initiates by the older members just before the tea. Following the tea the club held a candlelight service, concluding the formal initiation of the new members. After these ceremonies the members, old and new, and their dates enjoyed a dance at the Kelley home.

Colorado Water Assured By Vote Tuesday



The 71-mile San Jacinto-San Vicente aqueduct, now more than 50 per cent completed, will deliver Colorado river water to San Diego county within a year since approval of the water propositions at the election Tuesday. The big line taps the Metropolitan Water District's Colorado river aqueduct at San Jacinto, and follows a generally southerly course to San Vicente reservoir.

tions were made, especially regarding the provisions to be inserted in the contract. Particular emphasis was laid on the fact that the cost, since it is to be on a rental basis, should be totaled according to the number of days that the decorations will be in place.

Five Directors Nominated

A nominating committee, appointed by President J. R. Lownes, consisting of Milton Lancaster, Frank McElwee and Arnold Morss, reported that they had nominated for directors the following:

Homer Gravelle, Mrs. Ruth Anderson, R. E. Miller, Gene Henderson and Purcell Webb.

Other nominations can be made by any member by petition signed by four members provided same is turned over to Secretary Shaw before November 21. Election is to be made at the December meeting to be held the evening of December 2.

According to the new plan of staggering the terms of directors adopted a year ago, these five to be elected are for a term of two years. The board consists of 11 members. A year ago six of the 11 elected were for a period of two years and the other five for a period of one year.

Oppose Sales Tax Method

Following a talk by Clyde A'Neals, Ocean Beach accountant, the group passed a motion in opposition to the method being used by the state board of equalization for collection of the state sales tax. A'Neals stated that the state board has ruled that the San Diego city sales tax of one-half of one per cent must be added to the gross sales of every business before the 2½ per cent state sales tax is computed. He pointed out that the extra amount of tax thus required does not amount to much, but declared that the method used requires paying a state sales tax on a city sales tax, or in effect a tax on a tax. The state druggists association, he said, has taken action against what he said is regarded as both an unfair and an absurd state board policy.

The motion as passed recommended that the directors investigate and see what beneficial action, if any, is found to be advisable.

The remainder of the session was given over to reports of various Chamber of Commerce committees.

Ocean Beach Couple See Historic Spots In Tour of East

The New England convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held recently in Boston, Mass., was the occasion for a month's vacation and tour of several eastern cities for Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Schachtebeck of 4764 West Point Loma Blvd. In Boston they visited many historic spots of interest, including the North Church, the locations of the Boston Massacre, the Boston "Tea Party," Longfellow's home. They also attended three of the Red Sox-Cardinals World series baseball games.

From Boston they journeyed to Washington, D. C., where they saw Mount Vernon, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Lincoln's Memorial, the First Masonic Temple, where George Washington was the worshipful master, and most of the government buildings.

Returning to New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Schachtebeck visited the Rockefeller Center, Radio City and took a boat ride around Manhattan Island.

Out from Buffalo, N. Y., they saw the Niagara Falls from both the Canadian and American vantage points.

At Chicago, Ill., whence they traveled from Buffalo, the Schachtebecks took a trip on Lake Michigan and up the North Shore Drive. The last stop was Kansas City, Mo., and from there back to California.

The whole trip was made by railroad and they returned last week. Mrs. Schachtebeck says of the tour, "It was a wonderful trip, the weather was grand and I especially was impressed by the brightly colored autumn leaves in the eastern states."

MR. AND MRS. LLOYD DAVIS RETURN FROM OREGON TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd N. Davis of 2222 Froude St. returned last week Wednesday from a motor trip of 11 days in which they visited Mrs. Davis' aunt in Portland, Ore. Mrs. Davis said that she was particularly impressed with the beautiful fall colors in northern California and Oregon. They saw the "trees of Mystery" which Bob Ripley made famous in his column, between Eureka and Crescent City, and the part of the forest which was recently purchased by the California Federation of Women's Clubs, called the "Miracle Memorial" grove. The tree was dedicated on Sept. 29 by Mrs. Benjamin F. Warmer, federation president. This grove is 15 miles north of Eureka.

Dr. Cole to Talk Here In Observance Of Education Week

(By Mrs. Ralph Follick)

The Ocean Beach Elementary school principal and staff and the P. T. A. plan an evening program of special interest to parents Tuesday, November 12 from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. to highlight observance here of American Education week, November 10-16. "Open House" will be held at the school so parents may visit their children's rooms and meet the teachers. Also the general P. T. A. meeting will be featured in the school audtorium.

Dr. Stewart Cole, Pacific Coast director of Inter-Cultural Relations, is to be the guest speaker. His subject will be "The Psychology of Prejudice."

Dr. Cole, whose home is in Los Angeles, has been in San Diego on numerous visits this past year and has helped set up the program for studying inter-cultural relations in the city schools. Well-known as a fine speaker Dr. Cole will bring a message of vital interest to all parents.

As a part of the program for the year which is based on "Understanding—Highway to a Free World" Dr. Cole will discuss understanding true values and will show how our prejudices local and international hamper the attainment of true world cooperation.

Everyone is invited to attend—come and bring father and a neighbor too—make this a record turnout. Nursery service will be available.

"NEEDLENOISE"

(By Ellis Jacobson)

Instead of records this week we are going to review some of the music publications on the market. To lead off . . . there are the two old standbys, Down Beat and Metronome. Though it has increased in size since the war ended, Down Beat has shown very little improvement in quality and accuracy of material. The articles are very poorly written and the publication as a whole is devoting too much space to jazz. Metronome is also allowing their magazine to be ladened with jazz news but in spite of this it is a much better balanced magazine. The articles are of a variety of musical subjects and written in an interesting manner. It has also proved to be more accurate than most music publications. Though primarily jazz and popular music publications, both magazines have very brief articles on the classics.

Capitol Records issues an excellent music sheet (free of charge) that is small, compact but loaded with accurate articles and news of the music world. Most of their information is devoted to "musical doings" in Southern California. "The Capitol" can be obtained from any record store carrying Capitol platters.

The latest addition to the music-news field is Dave Dexter Jr.'s "Note." This setup has the quality but not the quantity. As it stands the articles and record reviews are excellent but there just isn't enough of either to make a full sized magazine. Dexter, former editor of Down Beat and The Capitol, has the experience and musical knowledge to inject into this sheet the zip it needs to really go ahead. Incidentally, Gene Norman, disc jockey of the Eastside Beer record program, is contributing articles to "Note."

A sheet that is really beneficial to the avid record fiend is "The Record Changer." Through the "Records for Sale" ads in this magazine almost any platter can be obtained. A few are on sale for a specific price, but the majority are up for auction. Naturally the dealer accepts the highest offer or trade of equal value. Besides the fascination of obtaining discs through this method . . . it will prove to be a time and money saver. The dealers are reliable and the records that you do receive will usually be in excellent condition and in mailing are well packed to protect against breakage. Along with the disc listings there are some excellent articles on jazz. To obtain this worthwhile magazine . . . send $2 for a 12-month subscription to The Record Changer, Fairfax, Va.

That's about all for now . . . will review a few more magazines in a forthcoming issue.

This group is meeting twice a month again this season.

Lions Hear Life Stories of Three Of Their Members

Meeting yesterday of the Ocean Beach Lions club at Saska's Chicken Bar featured biographical reports from some of the members under the direction (and prodding) of Program Chairman Ed Schoen. Called on for details of their careers were Art Derrick, Gene Henderson and Tony DePietro.

Fining was general throughout the meeting as members indudged in prohibited advertising of the firms they represent during the roll-call. President Bill Stone turned the gavel over to Ed Schoen for the program after a short business session.

Harry Arthur Wyman, a resident of Ocean Beach for the last seven years, died Sunday in his home, 2060 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. Services were held Thursday morning at the Beardsley Funeral Home, under the auspices of American Legion Post No. 544. Burial was in the Fort Rosecrans National cemetery.

Born in Minesota in 1892, Mr. Wyman fought in the first World War. He came to California 25 years ago. During his residence here he had worked for the city of San Diego as a tower equipment operator. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rose Marie Wyman; two sons, Perry Arthur and Walter Eugene Wyman; and one grandchild, all of Ocean Beach.

Evangelist E. Stanley Comstock will continue services at the Assembly of God church, Cape May and Ebers every night except Monday and Saturday, with each service beginning at 7:30, Rev. Howard A. Pegg announces. Subjects are Friday night, "Leprosy in America"; Sunday morning at worship, "What's Wrong with Modern Religion"; and Sunday night, "What About Russia." Other subjects of next week are to be "Enemies of the Cross," "Life After Death," "Will the Kingdom of God Be Realized on Earth" and others. "Special music is a feature of every service. Hear young soloist, Donald Comstock, every meeting night. The public is invited," says Rev. Pegg.

Rex Allen Drew, 64, of 3776 Bayside Lane, Mission Beach, long time resident of San Diego and father of Orville R. Drew of 4540 Santa Cruze Ave., Ocean Beach, passed away Monday, November 4, at Paradise Valley Sanitarium. Private funeral services were conducted at the Benbough Brothers Mortuary Wednesday, Nov. 6, at 2 p. m., with the Rev. H. B. Bard officiating.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Per E. Hanson, who had lived at 4937 Saratoga Ave. for the last 15 years. Mr. Hanson was born in Sweden in 1884 and came to this country 40 years ago. He was employed as a carpenter prior to his retirement a few years ago. He had no known survivors. Services were held in the Johnson-Saum chapel, with burial in Greenwood Memorial Park.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Alice Banks of 5172 Brighton Ave. is assisting Lillian Gosnell at the hosiery mending counter in Gilberts five and ten cent store. Miss Banks came to California from Michigan several months ago and through the "help wanted ad in The News" started to work with Mrs. Gosnell.

Buford Shaw of 2068 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. left Monday for a 10-day motor trip. His first stop will be in Barstow, Nev., where his brother whom he has not seen for four years is employed in a bank. His next stop will be Lubbock, Tex., to visit his sister, Mrs. Mildred Mosley.

The Y-teen 2000 club, formerly the Girl Reserves of Dana Junior high school, had a Halloween costume party in the patio of Beverly Anderson's home in Point Loma. The party started at 6 o'clock after which the girls went down to the carnival at the Cabrillo school, where prizes were won by Charlotte Wallace and Jerry Barnes of Point Loma.

Col. and Mrs. Floyd Bennett and daughter, Mrs. Robert J. Gorton, and Col. and Mrs. Thomas D. Marks, all of Ocean Beach, will be among the guests at the Marine Corps birthday dinner at the officers club at the Marine Base on Monday, Nov. 11. Mr. and Mrs. Jo T. Doyle of 4964 Brighton Ave. entertained Sunday at 6:30 dinner honoring the birthday of their daughter Janie. An unusual feature of this dinner party was that they had four birthday cakes on the dinner table, all lighted with candles celebrating the birthdays of Mrs. Salsberry, George Paton and Bruce Hart, who were among the guests present. The other guests were Mr. Salsberry, Betty Wilson, Doris House, Evelyn Barton, Grace White, Keith Rice, Lou McKay and Bill Bowen.

Club Women Will Head Paper Drive For Hospital Fund

Mrs. C. W. Early of Ocean Beach, one of the original members of the Orthopedic Hospital Fund Steering committee, with Mrs. R. A. Boyett of Loma Portal serving as general chairman, has been assigned to head the paper salvage drive for zones six and seven with pickups to be on November 11. Contents will be sold to swell the hospital salvage fund, which has as its ultimate goal a bed in the hospital for a crippled child.

Mrs. Early has chosen a large committee of well-known women to assist in this community project, who will contact all residents and urge the saving of papers and magazines. All bundles are to be well tied and placed in front of the homes. Those who will serve on the committee are: Mrs. Lloyd N. Davis, president of the Ocean Beach Woman's club; Mrs. J. A. Stevens, president of the Ocean Beach Junior Woman's club; Mrs. J. L. Godwin, representing the Loma Portal P. T. A.; Mrs. Enar Olson, president of the Ocean Beach P. T. A.; Mrs. Donald Muchmore, Girl Scouts Field director; Mrs. Margaret Marlow, representing the Ocean Beach business area; Mrs. F. R. Beckham, president of the Point Loma assembly, and Mrs. Sallie Frances Corcoran who has originated and carried on the "Penny a Day So That Some Child May Play" hospital fund raising plan in different sections of Point Loma.

All residents are urged to take part in this great humanitarian drive. Monday's pickup will be followed by a regular monthly drive with a definite date to be announced later, reports Mrs. C. W. Early.

Patricia J. Irwin Weds R. F. Dempsey On Monday Night

Miss Patricia Jeanne Irwin, daughter of Mrs. Salome Roberts Irwin of 4414 Ladera St., and Rexford Francis Dempsey, son of Mrs. Agnes Dempsey of Corey, Pa., were united in marriage at the Point Loma Community church Monday evening. Rev. S. Dean McBride performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the presence of about 100 relatives and friends.

The bride wore a white velvet gown with a long veil and carried a bouquet of gardenias and roses. She was attended by Marian Hardon of San Diego as matron of honor who was dressed in powder blue. Her bridesmaid was Peggy Paaske, of Mission Beach, wearing a wine colored gown. Both matron of honor and the bridesmaid carried muffs of gardenias and roses. Tall containers of large white chrysanthemums and pompon chrysanthemums were used for the wedding altar decorations. Lieut. Wm. McClellan of 4736 Narragansett Ave. attended the groom as best man and the usher was Richard Gottschall of Cornish Drive.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's mother, who received in a brown silk jersey gown trimmed with angora and wearing a winter-white hat. Her flowers consisted of a single orchid colored orchid. The bride's going away ensemble was an off-white wool jacket and brown skirt with brown accessories. After the honeymoon in Los Angeles and northern California the couple will reside at 4414 Ladera St. in Azure Vista.

135 TICKETS SOLD FOR METHODIST BAZAAR DINNER SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT

Up to Monday 135 tickets had been sold to the annual turkey dinner at the Point Loma Methodist church, to be held this (Friday) evening, starting at 5:30, reports Mrs. Kay Ward, publicity chairman. The dinner will last until 7:30, she says. The dinner is being held in conjunction with the annual bazaar, which will be held starting at 2 o'clock the same afternoon. Mrs. Ward reports an error in listing the decorations committee last week, stating that Mrs. R. E. Wenzel is the committee chairman instead of Mrs. Loftin G. Stewart.

Wilma Ingram And Elija Scott United At Church Wedding

Miss Wilma Hortense Ingram, daughter of Mrs. Eliza John Ingram of 4876 Muir Ave. Sunday became the bride of Elija W. Scott, son of E. B. Scott of Jefferson, Iowa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. O. Jenson at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, November 3, in the Ocean Beach Baptist church.

ARMISTICE DAY

The observance of Armistice Day creates a rather awkward situation. This was the day marking the end of the war that was to end wars. But war came again. Now Armistice Day is a reminder of the hopes that were not fulfilled after World War I.

On November 11, 1918, the world seemed confident—so blindly confident—that international armed conflict, by some magic never before demonstrated by man, had vanished from the earth. Yet, even then the fires of small conflicts continued to burn in Europe, and at intervals in the succeeding decades the flames of war flared up here and there throughout the globe until a worldwide conflagration burst forth once more with increased fury and intensity.

On this Armistice Day of 1946 the world is again seeking to establish a spirit of cooperation and understanding among the nations which will eliminate the use of arms in the settling of disputes. This time the world is not so confident of enduring peace. But the hope for peace lives on—a hope fired by the realization that civilization could hardly survive another gigantic upheaval.

Somewhow, the dream which the nations thought had come true on that November day nearly 30 years ago may yet—must yet—be realized. Out of the ashes of the old League of Nations has arisen the new United Nations. Out of the failure of the old league may come the secret of success for the new one. Out of the dream of yesterday must come the reality of tomorrow—lasting peace.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

With "Education for the Atomic Age" as its theme the 26th annual observance of American Education Week will be held from November 10 to 16.

The idea for such a week first took form back in 1921 as the result of the recognition of the need for better schooling for the youth of our Nation. In World War I approximately 25 per cent of the men examined for military service were found to be illiterate.

Great progress has been made in raising educational standards in America in the past quarter century and in cutting down illiteracy, but in these days the need for education was never greater. The Atomic Age has thrust upon us problems of enormous magnitude. Only through an enlightened concept of these problems and of the most intelligent means of approaching them can we hope to solve them.

The United States played a highly important part in defeating the Axis because, among other things, we gave our young men the best possible training in the grim art of warfare. We must be equally thorough in preparing our youth to fight and win the great battle for peace.

But to do this we cannot treat the needs of the American school system as if they were of little consequence. Every American, whether or not he is a parent, should take an active, earnest interest in our schools.

If this be done we shall certainly have better schools—schools turning out better citizens to build that long-sought better world.

Question: Should women receive the same amount of money as men for same kind of work?

"Yes women should receive the same salary as men if they are capable of doing the same work that is required of men. Many women have as much financial responsibility as men do."—Mrs. Bly Wood, Wood's Shoe Repair Shop.

"Why yes, they should receive the same amount of money as men—women make very capable and willing workers."—Dan Moss, Veda Moss Style Shop.

"If a woman can do as good a job she should receive as much money. During the war it was proven that women could do every bit as well as men."—Darlene Toombs, The Bowl Coffee Shop.

"Yes they should receive the same amount of money but I do think a man should get preference of the jobs. In other words, I don't believe a husband and wife should both work when there is a married man anywhere in the country out of a job."—George Frankeweich, Hilmen's Furniture Store.

"If a woman does the same kind of work and does it as efficiently she certainly is entitled to the same rate of pay as a man. I think it would be a good idea to take into consideration, though, the conditions making it necessary for her to work; whether or not she is the sole means of support for her family."—Mrs. Ed Benson, Gilbert's 5 and 10-Cent Store.

"Women definitely should receive the same amount of money for a same given job as a man. I base this reason on the law of equal pay for equal work."—Don Thomson, Strand Movie.

"I don't think a woman who is not the sole support of a family should receive the amount of money a man does who is supporting a family."—Mrs. Lynn Peltcher, Bonnie Jeanne Photographers.

"No. A family man, I think, should receive from 20 to 25 per cent more than a woman when filling an identical position. Because a self-supporting woman working in competition with a family provider is able to maintain a higher standard of living which will eventually enable her to qualify for a better paid position, while the man wit ha family has the needs and welfare of several others to consider first. These dependents in no way hinder his ability to progress, rather in most cases they give him a better emotional stability than a single person, but his family does make inroads on his income thus curtailing the amount of money and time he can spend on his appearance, travel, books, and additional adult education courses. In other words equal pay for equal work gives a woman an unfair economic advantage."—Mrs. C. S. Brandt, an ex-assistant escrow officer.

Question for next week: What do you think of Socialized Medicine?

STATE COLLEGE NEWS

(By Claire Hollobaugh)

State scored over Occidental, 21 to 12, at the homecoming game last Saturday. During the half, beautiful floats, made by organizations on campus, paraded around the stadium, and a wheelbarrow race between sororities was conducted. But once again we turn back to the campus and find a commerce student, Frank Deardorff of 4451 Niagara who is a sophomore at State this year.

Jean Aubin of 737 Cornish Dr. is a freshman majoring in art. For the right shade of lipstick to go with a lavender suit ask Jean. She worked in the cosmetic department of a downtown store this past summer.

From 4766 Point Loma Ave. comes Sherman L. Boles, a freshman majoring in electrical engineering. Sherman plans to enter the University of California at Berkeley after several semesters at State.

Robert Cleater of 845 Sunset Cliffs Blvd. is a senior whose major is geography and has a chemistry and physics minor. Bob is a member of the Eta Omega Delta fraternity and is in the organized naval reserve program for pilots. Mr. Cleater also belongs to the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Majoring in liberal arts is Ellis B. Murphy of 815 Cordova. "Murph" is one of our freshmen who has a keen interest in photography.

President of Eta Omega Delta fraternity, Wade Peebles of 4749 Brighton is a junior at State, majoring in civil engineering and minoring in physics.

Clinton H. Potter of 4422 Del Mar is a sophomore who has a mechanical engineering major and an economics minor. Clinton also belongs to the Eta Omega Delta fraternity.

Outside of State George L. Rock of 825 Cornish Dr. spends most of his time working for the local weather bureau. Mr. Rock is in the Teachers Training program at State, and is also a member of the Epsilon Eta fraternity.

David Sterne of 1667 Cable St. is taking a post graduate course in musicology at State. Mr. Sterne is a general science teacher in the city schools.

Majoring in geology Berdine Rogers of 4138 Banning St. enters State as a freshman. Berdine is also taking a pre-engineering course.

Torence B. McArron of 4434 Casitas, a sophomore.

MANY a small boy playing with a burning glass has conducted a simple yet significant experiment. Taking the glass and a piece of wood into the broad sunlight, he has focused or concentrated the sun's rays on the wood until enough heat has been generated to enable him to burn his initials on it. Later in life he may bring to bear all his powers, faculties, and activities on one course of action and the attainment of a predetermined accomplishment. This time he is focusing thought and energy and recording himself, not with initials burned on wood, but as a citizen of the world, either useful or otherwise.

When time and attention are thus directed to the attainment of a specific objective, it is of vast importance that the objective be a worthy one. The directing of all one's efforts toward a single end is actually consecration, for it is equivalent to dedicating one's life to a single purpose. Considered in this light, how necessary is a careful appraisal of what one's life is consecrated to. Consecration, in the usually accepted sense, means dedication to a holy purpose, or serving God. If honest examination shows that effort is being centered on something that is not Godlike, then a revision is at once in order.

But to the one concentrating on earning a living and supporting a family, the dedication or consecration of life to God may not appear feasible. Yet the world's greatest example of true consecration, Christ Jesus, pointed out in his Sermon on the Mount that seeking God first will surely bring to mankind everything that is needful. In the closing verses of the sixth chapter of Matthew it is made abundantly clear that the thing to be sought is not material wealth, but spiritual understanding. "Where your treasure is," said Christ Jesus, "there will your heart be also."

The devotion of thought and effort to the understanding of God means consecration to the things of Spirit. It is mankind's prime responsibility. Speaking of this in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy says (p. 261), "Good demands of man every hour, in which to work out the problem of being." That this is necessary is made abundantly clear for she continues: "Consecration to good does not lessen man's dependence on God, but heightens it. Neither does consecration diminish man's obligations to God, but shows the paramount necessity of meeting them." . . .

The need for obedience to the demand of good that every man "work out the problem of being" has never been greater than it is today. The rapid development of human inventions, notably in the airplane and radio fields, has made this world of many nations seem to shrink in size, and it demands a new kind of internationalism. As never before, each individual today is a citizen of the world, with greatly enlarged responsibility to his fellow men. His is a moral obligation calling for both concentration and consecration in attaining that spiritual understanding of God which the world must have to cure its ills. . . . —The Christian Science Monitor.

Senior Class Elects

At a recent election the following senior class officers were chosen by the class: Harry Bixby, president; Jean Wiesler, vice-president; secretary, Adele Hardie, and treasurer, Bob Hobson. John Lamott is faculty sponsor of this group. Plans are now being made, according to President Bixby, for the activities to complete this semester.

Boys Elect Officers

Bob Rye, commissioner of boys' activities, announces the following officers elected for the group: Bob Rye, president; Don Jones, vice-president; John de Beck, secretary, and George Perdomo, treasurer. To create a working fund for the semester and to have more spirit at the on and off-campus football games, the boys, according to Bob, sponsored a sale of identification buttons in the school colors—Maroon and Gold with Point Loma on them. The first sale within one hour's time, announces Bob, was 500 buttons. Another 500 will be sold soon. Robert D. Williams, sponsor of this group, announces a boys' assembly was held Tuesday, November 5. Robert Breitbard, representing Breitbard Athletic Foundation, was the guest speaker and athletic films were shown the group.

C. of C. Appeals To City for Building Of Fishing Pier

Pointing out the need for completion of the fishing pier at the foot of Del Monte, in which all of San Diego is interested, the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce last week dispatched the following letter of appeal to the San Diego City Council:

October 31, 1946

San Diego City Council,
Civic Center,
San Diego 1, California.
Gentlemen:

Reference is again made to the status of the municipal fishing pier of the foot of Del Monte Ave., construction of which has been at a stand-still since 1942.

This organization recently received a copy of a letter sent to the city council by James Grigsby who is not a resident of Ocean Beach. In this connection it is desired to bring out the fact that such a pier must not be considered a grant to Ocean Beach as a community. Inasmuch as the location of the pier was selected as the most convenient one for good fishing for the majority of the people of San Diego, it should certainly be classed as a municipal enterprise needed by San Diego as a whole. This was brought out in a letter to the Harbor Department by the San Diego Chamber of Commerce in June, 1945. At that time the matter had been referred to the Port Director for a report, following a communication from this office to the City Manager requesting that something be done to bring the project to completion.

At the August meeting of this year a representative of the Harbor Department told the members of the Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce that the Department was not in favor of assuming the work of completing the pier because it was felt that the project should be tied-in with the Mission Bay Development since it is strictly a recreation project.

It looks to us as if the stand of the Harbor Department is well taken. However, it is immaterial who completes the pier; but we do feel that steps should be taken at once to complete this much needed project. The Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce has backed up 100 per cent the Mission Bay improvement, regardless of the fact it will take out the Mission Bay bridge which is the most popular fishing spot south of the Los Angeles district. When this bridge is out there will be no public ocean fishing pier or bridge south of Oceanside.

Oceanside is rebuilding its pier at a cost of over $150,000; so surely San Diego, a city over 25 times the size of Oceanside, can afford to spend at least that much to complete its fishing pier.

We urgently request that your body give this matter careful consideration.

By direction of the Board of Directors:

ROLIN W. SHAW,
Secretary.

A meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at 2 p. m. on Thursday, Nov. 14 at the home of Mrs. Marian Belt at 4575 Santa Monica Ave. Reports of the delegates who attended the convention at Riverside, October 15 to 18 will be heard and the hostess will be Miss Lake. "Everyone is welcome," says Mrs, Lorna Dunn, president.

Kiwanis Shown Official Films Of Atom Bomb Tests

Ocean Beach Kiwanis club members at the meeting of Tuesday evening were shown official Navy films of the famous atom bomb tests made last summer at Bikini atol. Chief Petty Officer George Gall of the San Diego Navy recruiting service was in charge of the showing and operated the projector. He was introduced by Harold R. Thoma, program chairman for the evening.

Officer Gall showed pictures of both the above and below water explosions of the atom bomb, declaring that these were the first official pictures of the kind that have been made. The pictures not only displayed the terrific power of the atom bomb but also brought out in considerable detail the careful preparation that had been made for the blasts as well as showed a number of films of the damage caused by both explosions.

The pictures also emphasized that the main purpose of the atom bomb tests was to determine what naval vessels might expect in future combats, and particularly to determine what changes in design of warships are now necessary to provide as effective a defense as possible against this new form of war weapon.

Officer Gall also showed a film entitled "The Secret Battle," depicting the part that radar played in helping the Navy to win the war. "Our radar was better than that of the enemy," the film script stated. "We really fought and won the war in the laboratories." Not only did radar help to find the enemy ships but it also aimed the big guns of our warships with deadly accuracy, according to the script noted on the film.

A box social, sponsored by the St. Stephen's school of the Trinity Episcopal church, will be held Monday evening, Nov. 11, in Wallace Hall, beginning at 6 p. m. featuring a program in French and English to be presented by the children of the school, followed by the auctioneering of the box lunches. After the supper, all guests are invited to an "open house" at the school.

Teachers of the school will be in charge of the program. The public is invited, the only requirement being that everyone bring a box lunch.
